Please keep in mind that by providing your email it will only be used for this course and will be kept private. By providing your email you will receive the dates for all significant assignments, labs and unit tests.

This course also has a website which will be extremely valuable. The website will show the work covered for that day, homework solutions, and other important items. The website is <http://teachers.wrdsb.ca/baird/snc-1di/>. Please feel free to access it anytime.
